All The Right Moves

Each day we have to make many decisions; there are many problems to be faced and many situations to be confronted with at school. Since we are a small school, there is a chance to achieve perfection, and a chance to make . . .

STUDENT LIFE

Student life is more than classes and homework, it's a combination of friendships and activities that make each year more enjoyable. Student life is having friends to be your personal "Dear Abby," to laugh with, and to share special times together such as games, dances, and clubs.

SPRINGFEVER

Warmer weather, skipping school, trips to the beach are all signs of spring. Spring is always a welcomed time by most everyone. The sunshine and the fun can always warm people up, even after the coldest of winters. Not only can you see the beauty of spring in bloom, but you can also feel the excitement of spring in the air. During spring break, many students make plans for going to the beach, going on trips with school clubs, or just taking a break from school. After the long awaited spring break is over, last minute details for the prom are made. Invitations are sent out, tuxes are ordered, evening gowns are ordered, corsages are bought, dinner reservations are made, and countless other things are done in preparation for that long awaited night. Last year, the prom was held at the Radford Inn with the theme: Tonight I Celebrate My Love For You. The 1985 Prom was a great success and was said to be the most beautiful one in years.

By this time, spring fever is in full swing and the administration found itself lucky if one-half of the senior class was in attendance on any given day.

Spring is a time of great enjoyment with all the sports going on, the warmer weather, and yes, even the parties.

YESTERDAY, TODAY, & FOREVER

The Graduates were filled with thoughts of yesterday, today, and forever during their June 6th Graduation.

The speeches given by Melissa Estes, Helen Burton, Angie Dowdy, and Guy Lancour told of memories of the past and hopes of the future. They remembered their friendships together and the good times they shared. However, their aspirations for the future were even brighter.

There were many tears shed and many good-byes, but the occasion was definitely one of the most exciting experiences in their lifetime.

It was hard for the seniors to believe that they had experienced their last homework assignments for Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Winberry. The fun they had picking on the underclassmen was over, but these were times well spent and they will be well remembered.

"It's Time for Moving On" was not just another song by the Graduation Choir, it was a down to earth realization for the class of '85.

Helen Burton is congratulated by Mr. Bob Miller for being valedictorian during the ceremonies.

Ms. Bonnie Sumner spends summer vacation away from her job as a teacher by doing such things as horseback riding.

Steve Oliver watches over the steaks frying on the grill as he works as a cook at Country Cookin' in christianburg.

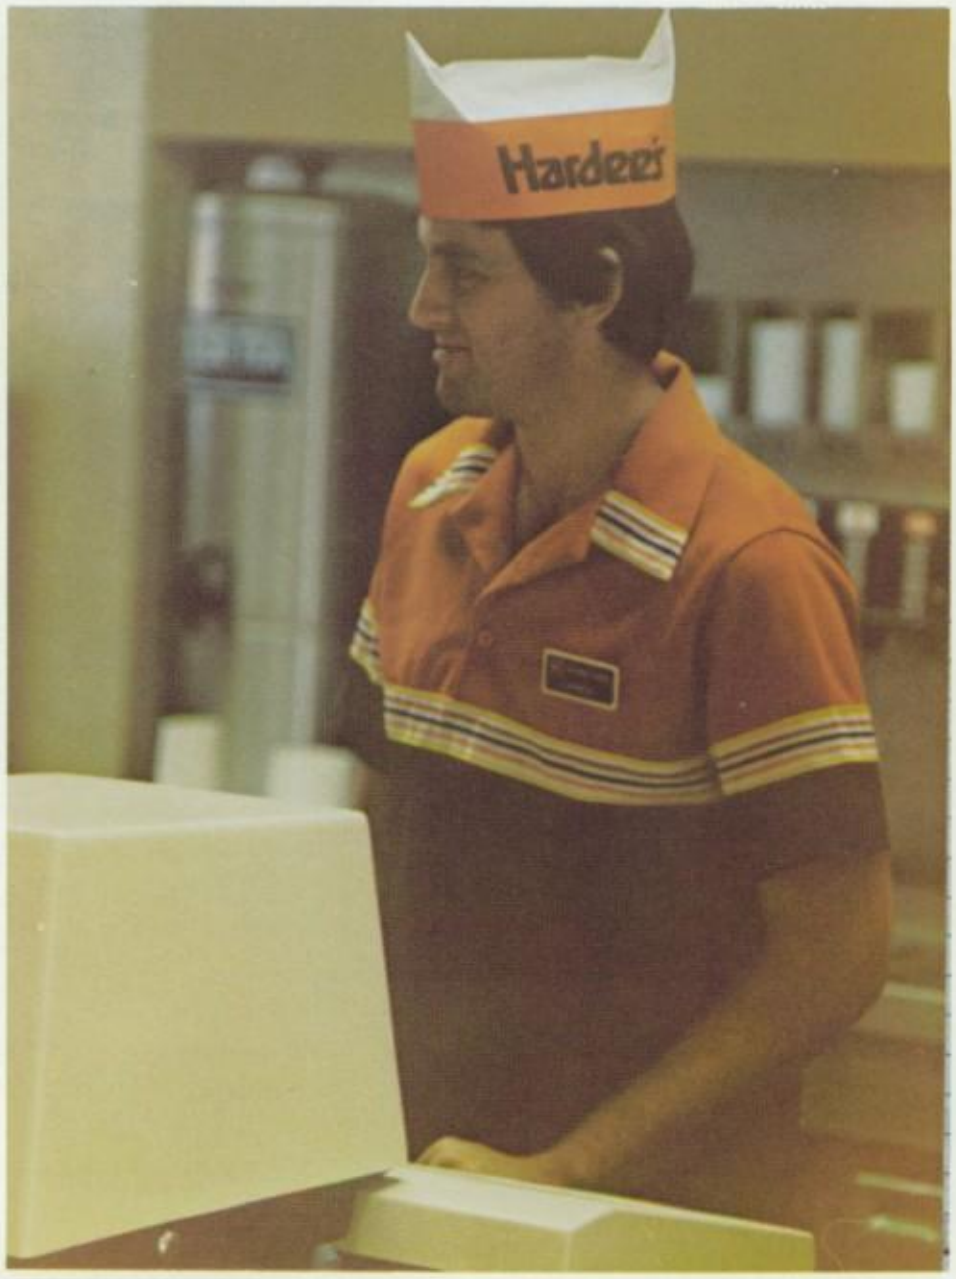
The Working Class . . .

is one more class in which many students now participate. Although some students feel a burst of relief when the final bell rings, many other realize their work is not yet done. For some, a job means earning money and having fun at the same time. For others, who take their job more seriously, it means a step up the ladder to a great success. For all, no matter what the reason for working, a job means meeting new people and tackling new challenges.

Summer work takes on many different forms and sizes. For some students, summer work meant staying home and helping do odd jobs around the house. There were such jobs to be done as painting the house, mowing the lawn, and keeping younger brothers or sisters.

Other students were hired by nearby friends who needed babysitters, someone to plow their fields, or maybe even someone to put up hay. Still others got a taste of the competition in the real world as they put in their applications for work along with countless others who wished to be hired. Although jobs were sometimes scarce and applicants many, a large number of students found themselves working at grocery stores, hair salons, car dealers, restaurants, or for the school.

Although jobs and paychecks varied, students gained new knowledge and experience from their summer work and now realize what responsibilities go along with being part of The Working Class.



"May I take your order, please?" asks Jim Rutherford, who worked at Hardee's on Roanoke Road last summer.

Connie Estes smiles as she rings up an order on the cash register at Dude's Family Restaurant, where she worked as a waitress last summer.

School Spirit Prevails

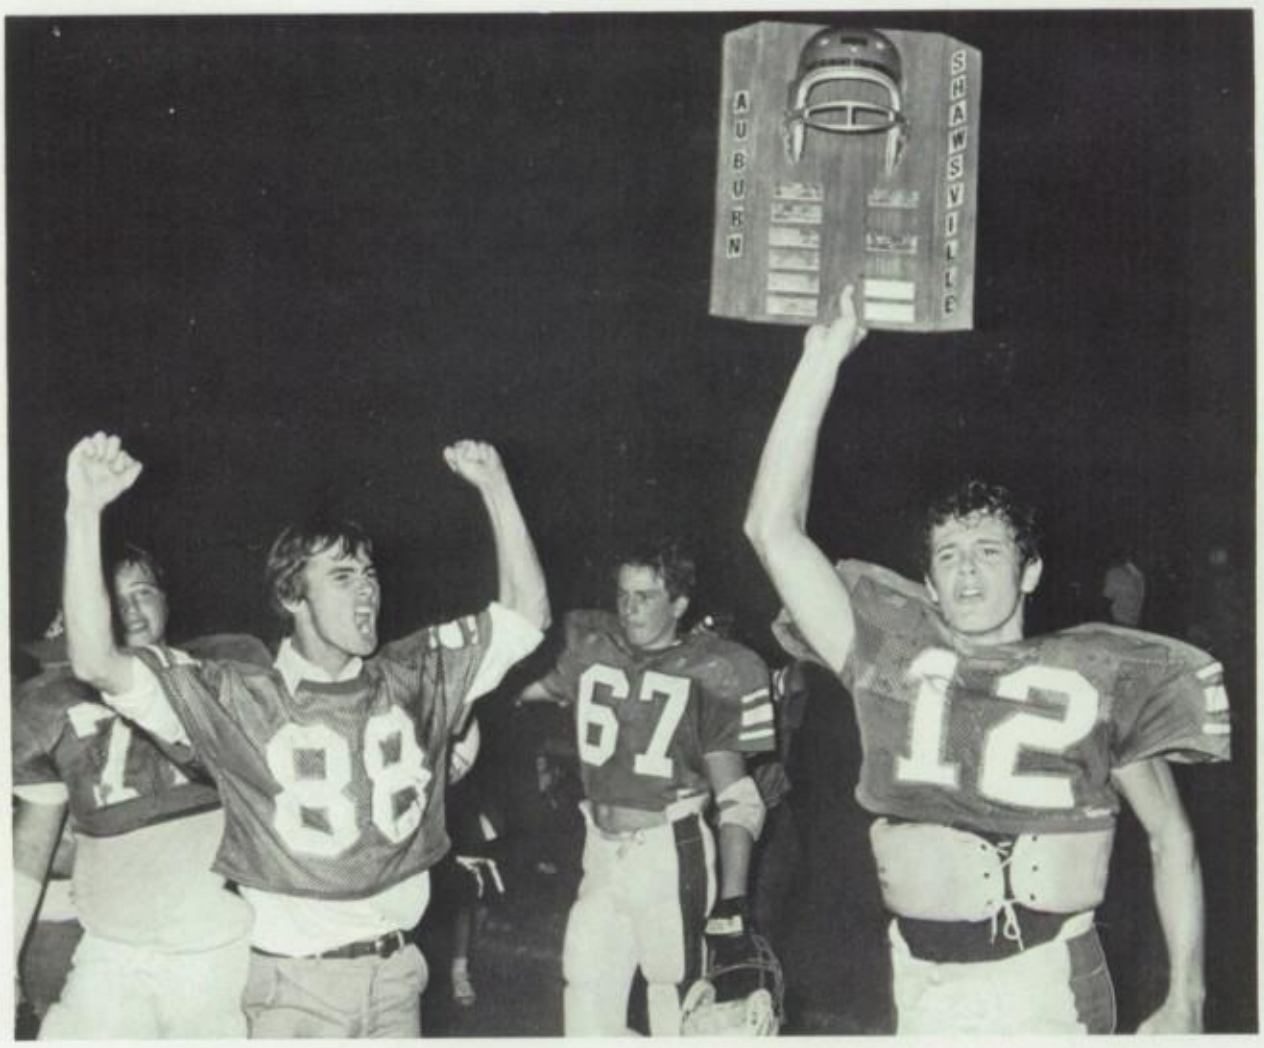
Daniel Page and Stacy Keith proudly display the Golden Helmet.



At Opening Game

Beating our rivals, the Shawsville Shawnees, was the right way to start the 1985 football season.

The fans roared with excitement, the cheerleaders yelled for victory, and the band played the school song as the strutting Eagles entered onto the field.

The Shawnees led the game 6-0 until the 4th quarter. With the determination to keep the Golden Helmet, the Eagles scored two touchdowns during the last two minutes of the game bringing the score to 13-6.

The Life and Times of High School Academics

As we walked into the classroom we figured it was going to be another boring class with the usual amount of note taking and lecturing. But, little did we know what was in store.

We found out we were going to set up a lab in chemistry class today. Well, at least that meant we would get to talk and move around some.

Everything was set up and in place for our labs and everyone was getting to work. For awhile everything was going smoothly. Then suddenly there was a noise. All of us turned to look and were surprised. Water was spraying everywhere! The nozzle had fallen off the faucet and no one knew what to do. Finally, Mr. Hunter saw and came running back to cut the faucet off from underneath the cabinet, but still the water continued to flow.

The janitors were called in; however, the water kept on gushing. By now everyone was in hysterics because of the ridiculous scene. Finally the janitors were able to plug the leak and stop the "flood."

No, not every day can you have such excitement in your classes, but you can try to enjoy your school work. School is what you make it. If you show some enthusiasm and interest in your school activities your future could be greatly enhanced.

There are a number of classes that are offered that help to create a well-rounded student. There are the usual classes of English, history, sciences, maths, government, etc., that all students must take. But, there are also the business, agricultural, foreign language, fine arts, and computer classes that stimulate interest in school.

Just because all students are required to take these classes doesn't mean they will find them interesting and they will automatically learn something. It all depends on the effort put forth by the students and the dedication of the teachers. Teachers and students must strive to work together.

"Won't this class ever end?" Cindy Goetz seems to be thinking as she grins and trys to bear it.

Middle School Academics

Work, work, work could very well be the motto for Middle School students as they work diligently on endless science projects, or homework in math or social studies. These kids are always busy in the world of academics.

Middle School isn't all work and no play, though. Activities like the Mouse Trap 500, spelling bees and classroom quiz are also a big part of the Middle School curriculum. These activities all teach them the meaning of hard work and determination and also promote academics in a fun, relaxing way.

So middle school academics are built upon constant homework, endless projects, and extra activities that promote academics in an enjoyable, relaxing way.

HOMECOMING '85

It was the time of the year again when people were wearing bandanas all over their bodies and the colors of red, white and blue were seen throughout the school. Once again Football Homecoming had come upon us.

The day was full of excitement. It started with a breakfast for the players given by the Cheerleaders. Next came the excitement of the pep rally when the Court was announced and the players were getting psyched up for the game.

That night, there were victory banners all over the field and fans yelling for their team. All of the spirit paid off because the Eagles defeated the Devils. To end the night, the students made the Homecoming dance one of the best.

HOMECOMING 1986

What a Homecoming! After three spirit days and a pep rally that consisted of a tricycle race between classes and chants that got the team's psyched, Homecoming night could be nothing less than spectacular.

While the band played, the court was announced. Representing the Freshmen Class were Diane Luckado and Tabitha Hawley. The Sophomores were represented by Amy Canaday and Melissa Cecil. Kim Duncan and Kim Kenely were representing the Juniors. The Senior representatives were Sarah Hollandsworth, Anita Naff, Princess Rhonda Dowdy and Queen Wendy Dove.

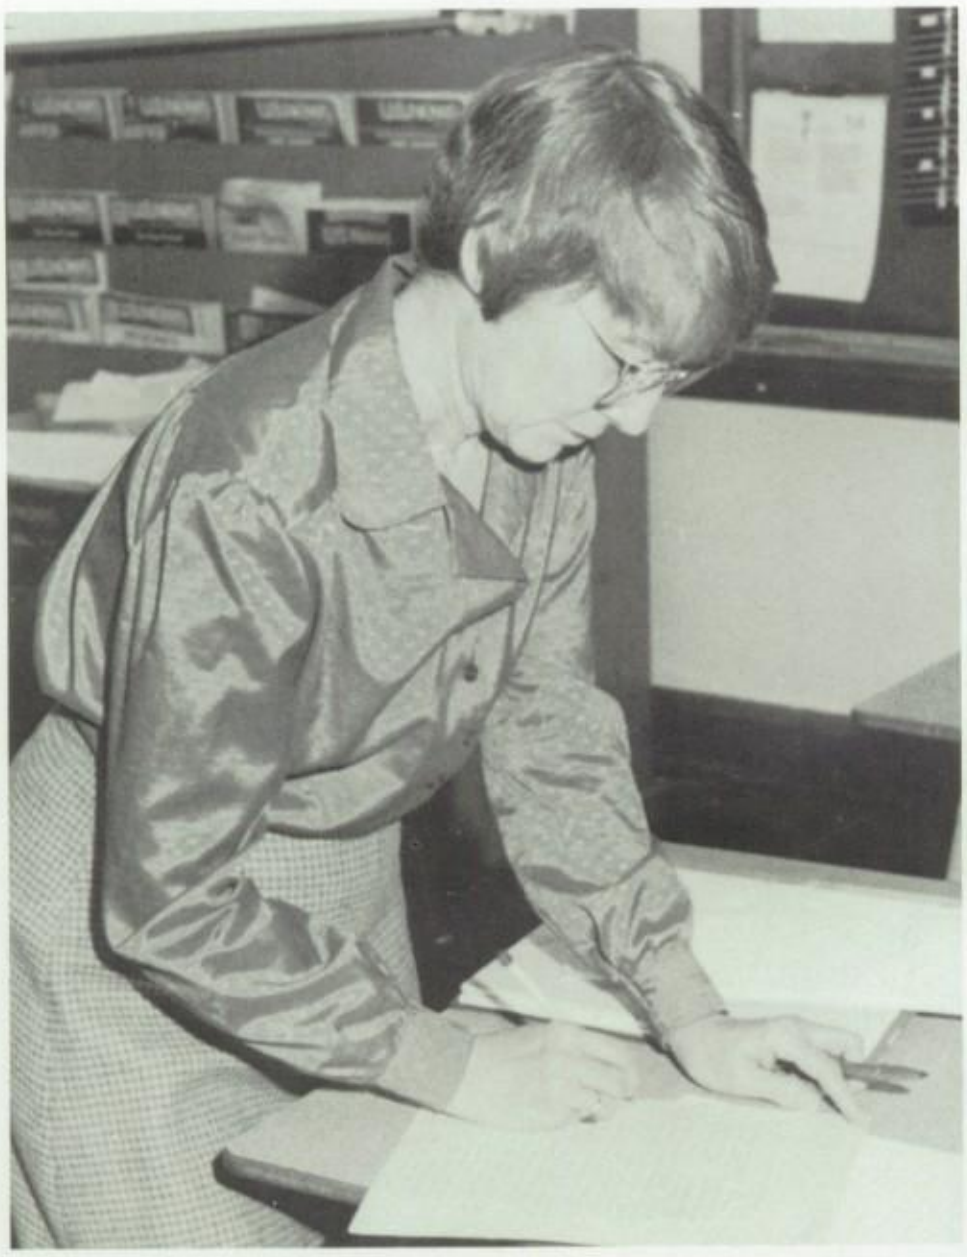
This One's for You

Though always quiet as she walks the halls in school, greeting each student she knows with a friendly hello; although always cool, calm, and collected when teaching the most hyper and rowdiest of students, this teacher is always able to make the best of impressions.

Though never pointing out the events her own hard work have made possible, we the Senior Class, realize what accomplishments she carries under her wing. Each year, she patiently works with anxious seniors, helping them prepare for their graduation and making sure there is actually going to be a graduation. This particular year, she strove to offer the student body a line-up of distinguished and talented guests from colleges around the state. Even if not working on a major project, she is always there, willing to help each and every student, making sure they learn all they can.

Because of her diligence, patience, and caring we, the Senior Class of 1986, proudly and gratefully dedicate this annual to Mrs. Annell Winberry.



Mrs. Winberry patiently grades one of many papers she daily receives.

What A Year

The class of '87 had a year full of excitement and activities. At the beginning of the year, the Juniors were filled with an anticipation about getting their long awaited class rings. The day came at a perfect time, but it was also the day of Football Homecoming.

After the excitement of the rings had passed, committees were being formed for Prom. This kept the Juniors busy deciding on a place, a theme, and other important details to make it a perfect night, however before they could decide on anything they needed to make their money. The Juniors participated in two fund raisers. One was a candy sale. The other was having a pie throw at the Carnival. No one ever thought raising money could be so messy. After getting the money they needed and working out all the details the night of Prom finally arrived. That night the theme "Nobody Loves Me Like You Do" was humming in everybody's mind.

With the class activities and each individual's interests, the school year of 1985-86 proved to be a year full of anticipation and accomplishments for the class of '87.

SPECIAL PEOPLE

What would we do without teachers! They're not just teachers though, they are our companions, coaches, counselors, and most importantly, our friends. Many activities that we do could not be possible without these people. Teachers are concerned with our academic as well as our extracurricular activities. They are people who sponsor and come to our many activities such as Choir Concerts, Basketball games, MACC Competitions, and all of the other things that we, the students, participate in.

In addition to this, they help us with our problems, listen to our questions, and put up with our pranks.

But through all, teachers are still here supporting the students. And without them we would not be able to succeed. Teachers, to you we say THANKS!

Thank You For all You Do

"Lunch smells like something rotten, "Look at this messy hall" or, "I hate riding the bus to school," are just a few of the comments that students make about going to school. Students should stop and realize what a great deal it is to have a ride to school, a good meal in their stomachs and clean halls to roam in. The cooks, bus drivers, and custodians all work very hard to do a good job and keep everyone happy. For this they all deserve a big thank-you. So THANK-YOU cooks, bus drivers, and custodians for all you do, all year long.

STEPPING TO THE CHALLENGE

The Varsity Football Season was kicked off with a blast of school spirit and an amazing 13-6 win over Shawsville. The two touchdowns were scored within the last minute and 18 seconds of the game, with Stacy Keith throwing both touchdown passes to bring home the Golden Helmet.

The season, which ended with a five and five record, was a challenging season with many personal achievements resulting in many broken records. Stacy Keith passed well over a thousand yards, Jimmy Shepherd caught over 30 passes, and Sean Jessie was declared Most Valuable Player. Bobby Phillips, in his first and last year of playing, broke the record of most tackles. Colby Phillips, a two way starter, was second in leading tackles. Keith Bennett had over 700 yards rushing and has the ability to break records in the future, as Coach Harris stated.

Cheerleaders Attempt A New Split

This year presented a new experience for the Auburn Varsity Cheerleaders which was having two squads instead of one.

The Football Cheerleaders' jobs began way earlier than the season did. One hot summer day of football practice, the cheerleaders surprised the players with popsicles which were greatly appreciated.

The tradition of secret pals was also upheld this year and each cheerleader presented their pals with candy every week to show their support.

Other activities performed by the cheerleaders were serving the football players breakfast on the mornings of the Homecoming game and last game. They also cooked lunch for the senior players for the last game.

The first year for a two-group squad seemed to be very successful, but the future of this continuing is still unknown.

We've Got Spirit

Hardwork and dedication, that's the kind of stuff that makes up the marching band. Long hours in the sun during summer vacation to learn a field show, freezing Friday night football weather they must endure in order to perform their hard-learned field show, and also giving up many a Saturday for competition and parades are just a few of the sacrifices band members must make to have a great field show.

Often the true capability of marching band members goes unrecognized. Every football game they are out there screaming their lungs out trying desperately to cheer their team on to victory and keep the crowd alive and kicking. Then during half-time they must perform their field show, one that they have worked many, many hours on and also one that many people don't fully appreciate. Think now, what would a game be without the band there to liven things up? Have you ever noticed when the band leaves a lot of the crowd spirit leaves also?

Small in Numbers, BIG in Heart

Despite boasting a 1-4-1 record, the J.V. football season was more a matter of the lack of numbers than of lackodasical work and play.

The J.V. team started out the season with only 7 players and only those had little experience, they were still able to finish fourth in the district defeating Shawsville and tying Galax.

The team not only had Coach Mac Milton on the sidelines but also Timmy Goetz, Milton stated that "the team was tough and strong and always had the will to improve." He's looking forward to returning players and players from sandlot for next year.

ALL THE WAY TO THE TOP!!

"Four . . . three . . . two . . . one! We're number one!!" shouted the crowd and cheerleaders as the scoreboard read 55-42 as the Lady Eagles won their first MED Championship in ten years. That night was a night to remember. It was a game that every team and coach wants and dreams of. The Lady Eagles had won their first MED Title and they did it in style. First they beat number one unbeaten Ft. Chiswell in the second round of the tournament for a chance at the championship. Then the Eagles beat a team that they had never beaten before, Floyd, and it was for the championship. They couldn't have picked a better time. Other highlights of the evening included the naming of Senior Rhonda Dowdy to the All District Team, while Anita Naff, Lori Lester, Michele Bishop, and Lucy Turner received honorable mentions.

Never Say Die

With the loss of four key players from last year's squad, the J.V. girls' basketball team regrouped and headed into action.

Battling their way to a 3-1 record, the ladies headed for Floyd County. Excitement filled the air in the Floyd County gym as the opening buzzer sounded and the action began.

The ladies came out fired up and ready to play. With seven seconds left to play, the ladies were down by one point. Two second and the ladies steal the ball. The buzzer sounded, the game was over, and the ladies had lost by one point. All the girls were proud of their performance, however, they all gained the confidence that they could play tough against anyone.

As the season progressed, the ladies fought hard, but came up with some disappointing close losses, as they ended their season with a 9-9 record.

Although the girls had hoped for a better record, they all gained needed experience and a never say die spirit.

Eagle Harriers Claim District/ Regional Titles

Maria Fletcher, number one runner, passes an Auburn runner.

The cross country teams had another very successful season. This year the boys, as well as the girls, went to the state meet.

With many experienced runners and many inexperienced harriers, the boys' team headed into the season with high hopes. The season progressed with success after success. Finally, the district meet came — the boys chalked up another "W." As regionals rolled around, the Eagle harriers looked for a win and got it. State was next and the boys met with great success as the team placed an overall fifth place and Steve Shelton grabbed a thirteenth place finish.

The lady Eagles also had a triumphant year. The ladies lost one runner early on, but managed a successful season. The ladies captured the district title and moved on to successfully snare the regional designation as "numero uno". The ladies headed to state looking for a season ending success. They grabbed a ninth place overall finish and Maria Fletcher claimed a third place finish.

A Season of Revenge

With only 35 seconds left on the clock it looked like a repeat of their earlier game when the Eagles lost to Floyd County in a triple overtime. However, this time things turned around when Bill Decker hit his free throws to pull the Eagles ahead of the Buffalos 61-60. The Eagles were able to hold on to their lead and became the victors in the battle of revenge. This was one of the many highlights the team experienced. They also had many individual achievements Stacy Kieth and Barry Johnson led the team in scoring and assists while Jay McIlwain and Mark Link were leading rebounders. Barry Johnson broke a career high of 1000 points and was a member of the All District Team. Mark Link also received Honorable Mentions in the district. The team finished the season with a 13-7 record.

8TH GRADE AND J.V. TEAMS GAIN EXPERIENCE

This year's J.V. team started as a good team and continued to get better as the season progressed. The boys ended up with a 6-14 record. However, the record doesn't tell the whole story. The defeats the team encountered were all close, heart-wrenching games. They learned from their mistakes and improved throughout the year.

The 8th grade team was much like the J.V. As the season progressed, each played improved individually, and as a team continued to get better. They ended their season with a 3-15 record. More important than winning is being on a basketball team working, cooperating, and having fun.

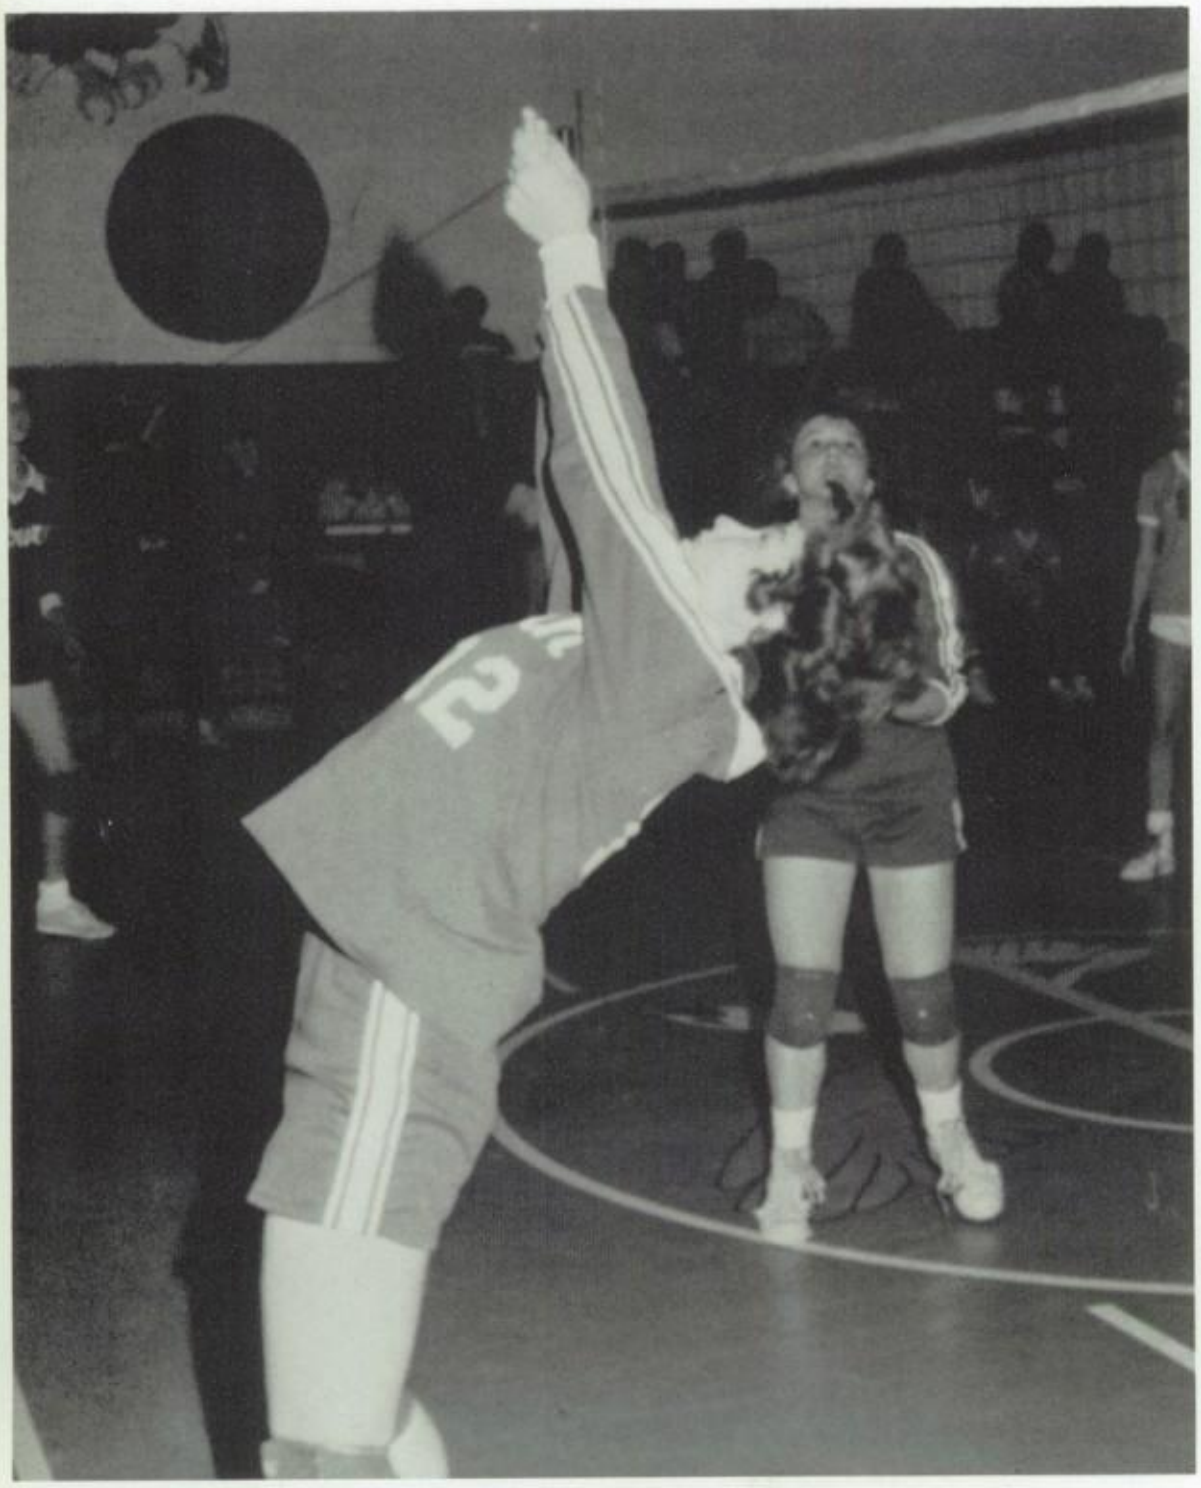
Smooth Movin' Ladies



Although the girls' volleyball team had a tough time getting a team together and finding a coach, the ladies had a successful season, posting a 5-3 record. One of the most exciting wins for the ladies was a come-from-behind win over Independence . . . The ladies were down two games to zero, but they didn't let up as they managed to pull a 3-2 victory. Coach Jane Carper stated that the girls' best game was a disappointing loss to Shawsville. Along with the ladies 5-3 season, senior Marcy Bennett was named a member of the all district volleyball team.

Gaining Valuable Experience

Even though the 1985 Girls' Tennis Team ended with a 3-6 record, they gained not only experience for the upcoming years, but a better sense of the word friendship. Each member of the team will always have memories of the matches, the water fights, the "skittles" pigouts, and the meetings with Billy Bob at Showbiz Pizza Place. However it was not always a playtime. The girls spent many hours after school in the freezing cold or rain to prepare for an upcoming match. They stayed after practices or on weekends improving their skills. Coach Kathy Duncan commented, "The girls always worked hard, and they improved tremendously throughout the season."

'85 WAS A HIT!

The 1985 Auburn Eagles Baseball Team used a different approach to capture the Mountain Empire District Championship title. In the past they relied on their defense, but their new key to success was a hit. The team had a total of eleven homeruns; Jay McIlwain led with five.

The Eagles faced Castlewood for a second time in the regional playoff game. Castlewood came up winners of that game, but the Eagles were still proud of their previous victories and team achievements.

The team finished the season with a record of 14-5, won the Mountain Empire District Championship for the second year, won the Sub Regional semi-final game against Honaker, and named the following players to the All-Mountain Empire District Team: Eric Altizer, P. J. Altizer, and Stacy Keith.

Indoor track gains strength

Although this was only the second year for the indoor track teams they proved to be deadly competitors to the other schools. They practiced everyday after school in January, then participated in the district meets held at Va. Tech once a week. Junior Steve Shelton received the boys' most valuable award while sophomore Maria Fletcher was the recipient of the girls'.

CHALLENGES OF THE MIND

Your pulse quickens and your hands begin to sweat as you try to anticipate the next move. But it is not physical competition, it is competition of the mind.

The competition is the Mountain Academic Competition Conference, or MACC. Auburn, along with eight other schools, joined to create MACC.

Competitions were held on Monday nights. There were four major categories and an all-around category. The four categories were English, Math, Science, and Social Studies. The all-around category consisted of questions from all of the four major rounds. Each team consisted of three members, one of whom was a captain. Each of the four teams were asked ten directed questions and ten toss-up questions. In the toss-up round, the first person to buzz-in would get a chance to answer. The all-around category consisted of twenty-five buzz-in questions.

The competitions were very exciting and intellectually stimulating.

The coaches for each team were: Ms. Sumner for English; Ms. Horner for Social Studies; Mr. Hunter for Science; Ms. Griffin for Math; Mr. Hunter was the Head Coach.

Beta Club

This year the Beta Club inducted nine new members. Spencer Vaughn, Susan Rigney, Karen Woolwine, Vickie Radford, Michelle Page, Missy Plaster, and Danielle Denny were the junior inductees. Tonia Bain and Michelle Roseberry were the senior inductees.

All the new members who were inducted had attained a 3.25 grade point average. Once again this year, the Beta Club sponsored eagle searchers; an afterschool program for students who need tutoring in specific classes. Beta Club members and Mrs. Burroughs worked hard to make the project successful.

SHOOTING FOR THE TOP

The Junior Beta Club is one of the many clubs offered to Middle School students. It's for students with high grade averages. We have two tap ins each year. One occurs in the fall and the other in the spring. To be eligible for the fall tap in, you must maintain a high 'A' average, and for the spring you must have an 'A' or a 'B' average. The officers are: Ann Miles — President, Missy Simpkins — Vice President, and Russell Smith — Secretary/Treasurer.

This year Jr. Beta has participated in many activities. They organized with High School Beta for a balloon lift off as the finale for the academic Pep Rally. For Teacher Appreciation Day, they placed apples in all the teachers boxes. One of junior Beta's major projects this year is sponsoring the Math-a-thon for St. Jude's Children's Hospital. Over 100 students will participate in this project.

Choir Tries A New Swing

This year brought about a new group in the High School Choir. For the first time at Auburn, a swing choir was organized. Those who decided to try out, learned the selected song and the choreographed dance steps to go along with it. The try-outs were held, and the following are the members of the first swing choir: Myra Kenley, Rhonda Woolwine, Kim Kenley, Crystal Flinchum, Kim Reed, Debbie Wade, Kim Vaughn, Sarah Hollandsworth, Michelle Bishop, Michelle Bain, Joy LaRue, Spencer Vaughn, Jimmy Roop, Robbie Bishop, and Terry Hodges.

Along with having a new swing choir, the class performed its regular winter concert. This year's winter concert was a mixture between a play and a musical, called The Gift.

The choir also performed a spring concert with a Broadway theme. Along with these concerts, the choir also made several performances for the school throughout the year.

Other successful accomplishments for the High School Choir were sending several members to All-County and All-Regional choir. The choir also continued the tradition of having the National Anthem Choir sing before each home boy's basketball game. The handbell choir also performed in several concerts held during the year.

All in all, the High School Choir had a very productive year. Many new doors were opened for the members. Several years ago the handbell choir was introduced, then the National Anthem Group was organized, and this year the swing choir was brought about. What's next? I guess you'll just have to wait and see what new and exciting things the High School Choir holds in store; but you can be assured it will be great!

Students learn about military/college opportunities.

The College Club is a higher education oriented club. The goal of the College Club is to inform students about college costs, financial aid, campus life, college workload, opportunities in the military, and much more.

Many speakers came throughout the year and offered their knowledge of college or military life to the students. The students, in turn, may ask the speakers about any facet of college or military life in which they are interested.

This year, speakers from Radford University, Virginia Tech, and the Navy came and spoke to club members about campus life, application requirements, financial aid, and scholarship opportunities.

ACTING IT OUT

The Drama Club has put on four plays, three in the fall and one in the winter. The fall plays were comedies, and they were all very short. The plays turned out to be very popular with the high school students. The first one was a play about juvenile delinquency called "Do It Yourself." It starred Erica Johnson, Todd Dobbins, Davy Jones, and Chris Farnwalt. The second play was an old Abbot and Costelo act called "Who's on First." This starred Billy Moose and Chris Farnwalt. The third fall play was another comedy called "MY" starring Todd Dobbins, Erica Johnson, Kevin Conner, and Chris Farnwalt.

The winter play was a very serious melodrama called "Next Move." This play made second place at district and third at regionals. It also won first place at a competition at Ferrum College. This play starred Kim Reed, Sean Jessie, Erica Johnson, Cheron Farnwalt, and Chris Farnwalt.

Presently, the club is working on a spring play called "Rest Assured." The play is another comedy and will have a large cast. The cast will include senior Jean Jessie, returning from the winter performance.

Band Members Work Hard!

Throughout the year the band has really been hard at work from marching season with field show practice, parades, and actual performance at football games to long, hard practices preparing for district festival and concerts. No matter what you say about the band, you certainly can't call them lazy. All year it has been one activity after another.

The main highlight of their year was a trip to Florida in May. They worked very hard to see that come off the ground with long, hard hours of selling everything from pizza to candy bars. This trip was quite unique for our school, for no other band in our history has taken such a trip. The trip included a visit to Walt Disney World, the Kennedy Space Center, Wet and Wild, and to top it off, a barbecue on the beach. Going to Florida wasn't all fun and games, however, for they were expected to compete in concerts where they performed well. This certainly was a great reward for all the many hard years of work the members and Ms. Duncan put forth.

Small Staff Creates Trendier Paper

Covering beats, writing and editing stories, slaving over layouts and finding time to take photographs were just a few responsibilities of this year's Eagle's Eye staff.

Although the staff was small, claiming only nine reporters, it accomplished its goal of publishing six editions of the paper.

Five reporters attended a workshop in Charlottesville to better their writing skills and learn some new trends in journalism. From this workshop, the students decided to use several new layout techniques that added a trendier look to the paper.

An ongoing series of Pro/Con stories on current issues added an interesting feature to the Eagle's Eye.

The student poll was also a very popular feature in the paper, as well as several cartoons by art students Steve Shelton and Keith Bennett.

Archeology-Ecology Club

The first year for this club has been a very successful one.

On the Archeology side the club went on "digs", where they discovered, washed, and labeled artifacts of the past. The club also collected enough Campbells Soup labels to acquire some very ancient fossils.

On the Ecology side, they ran an aluminum and glass recycling drive where they received lots of support from the community and other students. The club also presented an original play at Riner Middle School, which described the importance of protecting our environment.

The Archeology-Ecology Club hopes for an even more eventful summer full of educational activities.

FBLA Working Strong

The Future Business Leaders of America are growing stronger and more successful every year. Their goals are to strive and make a better understanding of the business world.

This year, the F.B.L.A. held their motto high in many activities. Michelle Bain represented A.H.S. in the county level F.B.L.A. Competitions at Christiansburg High School during February. A special donation was given to the Special Olympics by the club.

The F.B.L.A. would like to extend a special "THANKS" to Mr. Bishop for being such a wonderful leader and friend.

Highly Active Club

The students in FHA have been very busy through this year. They have been on trips to Valley View Mall and gotten to explore all the fantastic shops. Senior FHA member Connie Estes designed the club's flag and has spent a great deal of time and energy on it.

One of the largest events of the year was the annual mock wedding. This year, the honors went to Sandra Cole and Jimmy Shepherd. There was a great deal of planning that went into the wedding and all the FHA members certainly had their share to do. Among the activities were preparing the food for the reception, preparing the flowers and the decorations. It took a great deal of time and money. The FHA got estimates on the prices of formal wear for the wedding and on the price of the rings.

FFA KEEPS "GROWING" STRONG

The Riner FFA chapter had a busy year participating in different contests and taking various trips. Some of the contests involving local and statewide competition were:

Forestry Judging
Public Speaking
Parliamentary Procedure
Livestock Judging
Tractor Driving
Dairy Cattle Judging
Farm Mechanics

In the month of September, the FFA took a trip to Richmond for the Virginia State Fair. In October they attended the State Leadership Training Conference at Virginia Tech.

Three members, Penny Agnew, Joy LaRue, and Steve Bishop, attended the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, during November.

The future of our world's food supply depends on this organization. There is much opportunity in an agricultural career, and in this day and age when the farmers of America are running upon 'hard' ground, we should be proud to see that our fellow classmates are willing to take on the challenge of feeding the world.

WE'RE S.A.D.D.!!

S.A.D.D.'s second year has been another successful one. The organization shared the origin of the nationwide organization through a videotaped presentation to the student body. Throughout the year, and especially during prom week, S.A.D.D. members decorated the halls with original posters declaring that the evening would be more enjoyable without drinking and driving.

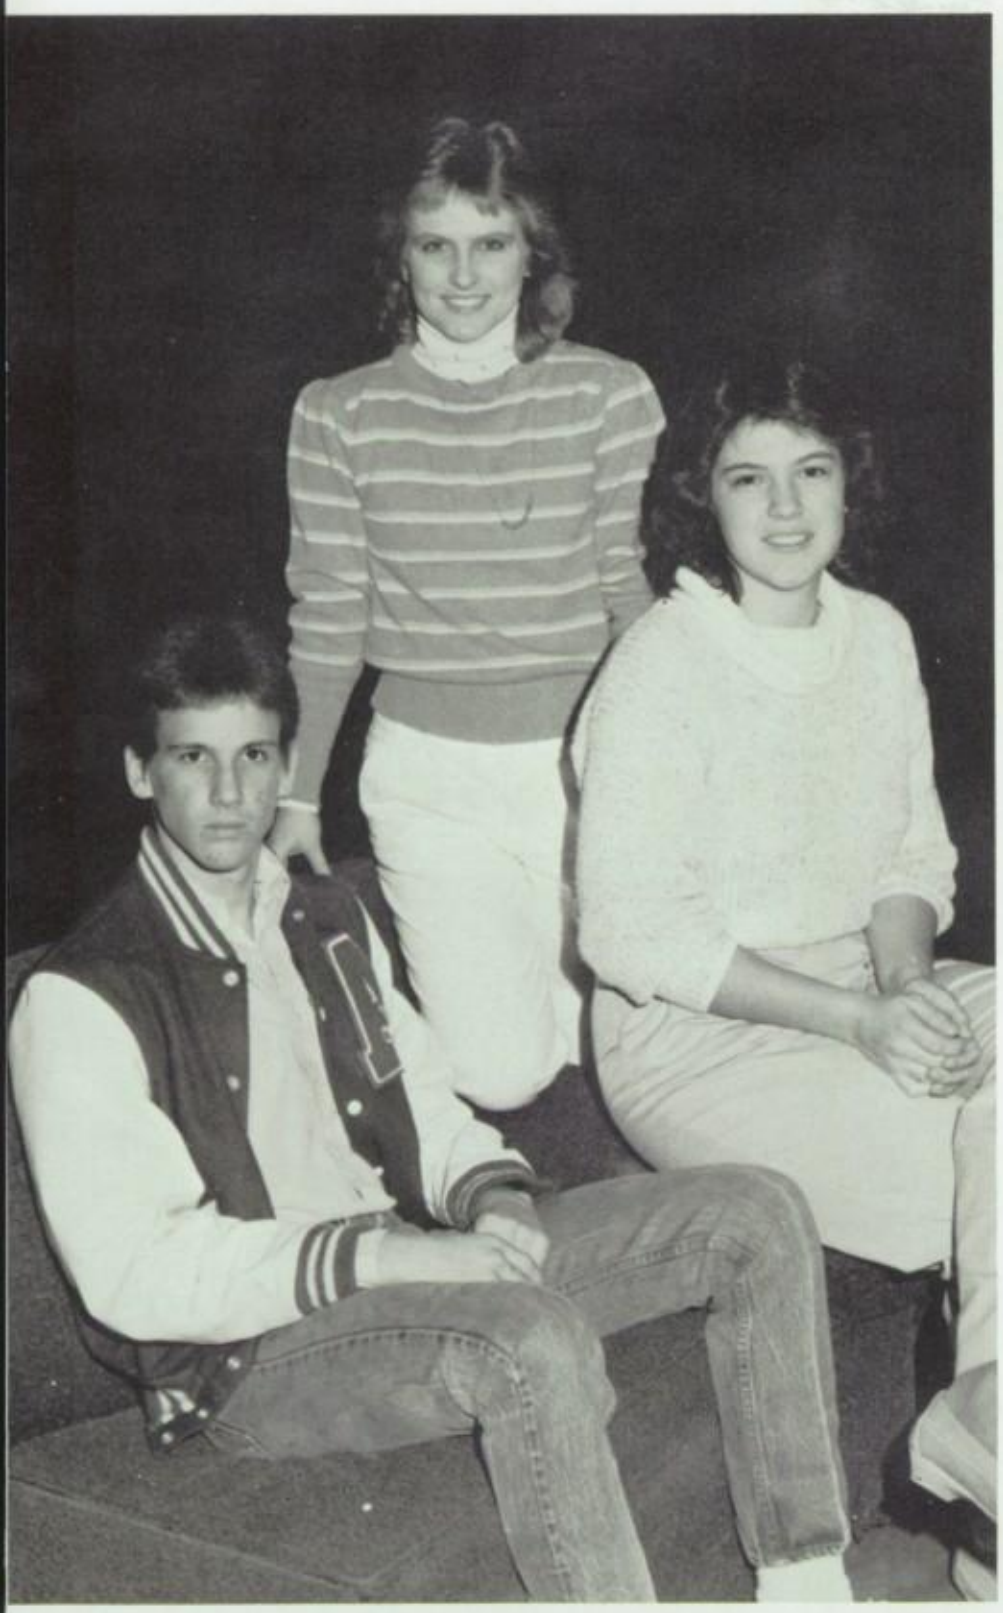
Forensics of Course!

What could you have done if you love poetry, love to speak to an audience, and are up on current events? Why, Forensics of course.

Extemporaneous speaking, poetry, dramatic interpretation, and humorous interpretation were just some areas in which team members could compete. Original oratory, prose, and spelling supplemented the areas of competition.

With a team of fresh faces, the positions were filled with many inexperienced students. Two of the team members, Toni Bower in Poetry and Brian Healey in Prose, placed at the district meet and Healey advanced to regional competition.



Forensics Officers: Doug Turpin, President; Kim Reed, Secretary; Debbie Smith, Vice President.

Activity Filled Year

The Latin Club had one of its most active years ever. One activity the club sponsored was the banner competition in which all clubs participated. As a first, the club sponsored a successful silent auction.

The second annual pizza party was also a highlight of the year. For the academic pep rally they selected members who dressed up in mini-togas and did a cheer in Latin while the other club members joined in from the stands.

The club also held its annual banquet where students received pins for completing three years of Latin. To round out the active year, the club gave a total of $75 in donations to several good causes.

The Spanish Club is an exciting and interesting activity in the lives of many students. At the fall carnival, members of the club prepared and sold tacos and lemonade. This wasn't a great success, but the thought and great effort put forth certianly counted.

Some of the classes had major projects assigned to them so that they could learn more about the Spanish culture. Some of the projects included sample food dishes prepared by the students. They found this to be a very unusual experience as some of the dishes were not exactly tasteful.

One of the many goals of the Spanish club is to adopt an overseas orphan child. They hope to send money to help with the child's education and to better his life.

Some students exchanged letters with students from Mexico; this enriched their appreciation of the Spanish culture and gave them first hand experience of what life would be like in Mexico.

The task of designing a flag to represent their club was a great one, but the Spanish III class came up with an idea and had the flag assembled.

The Spanish club helps students experience something they normally wouldn't have the chance to do. It gives them a chance to broaden their horizons and seek something more in the way of cultural experience.

High School SCA

The Auburn High School SCA was very active around the school again this year.

Activities such as the fall carnival, the academic awards assembly, and the student-of-the-month were several things the SCA sponsored. The academics asembly was held to award academic achievements rather than sports related achievements. The student-of-the-month was a high school and middle school student who was chosen by the SCA each month on the basis of distinguishing characteristics.

The SCA also had a fundraising drive to help the Hadyn Simpkins family pay funeral expenses.

During the 1985-86 school year, the middle school SCA conducted two dances, sponsored the Christmas Slips contest, and organized the Spring Classroom Quiz Competition.

VICA and HOSA are organizations that prepare students for life after high school. Both groups give students valuable information about how to be themselves and become a success.

Students are trained in everything from cosmetology to auto mechanics, to health occupations. Every student in every area is trained to be an expert in his or her trade. Students take part in activities and competitions that give them a chance to "strut their stuff" and improve their abilities in their chosen trade.

Library Club

Most people consider a member of the Library Club B-O-R-I-N-G — you know, all work and no play. The Library Club members this year have proven this opinion wrong. Along with the usual duties of shelving books, typing overdue lists and checking out materials, the members had a very eventful year.

During the fall, the club sponsored a dance, sold raffle tickets at the carnival, and held a book fair to raise funds. They also made a flag to hang in the library with "Flying for Colors."

Spring also proved to be an eventful season. Senior members were honored with a pizza party.

Hi-Y Has Successful Year

The Co-ed Hi-Y has had a very active year. The main goal was to write a bill so that the club would be able to participate in the Annual Model General Assembly which was held April 3-5 in Richmond, Va.

There have been many things that the club has been involved in. Among these are the following activities:

1. Donation to Special Olympics
2. Supporting the Montgomery County Christmas Store.
3. Donating Christmas fruit baskets to elderly persons in the Pilot community through the Pilot Ruritan Club and to the citizens of Montgomery County by way of St. John's Lodge #35.
4. Selling doughnuts to raise money for MGA.
5. Donations of gifts and fruit baskets to deserving children in the Riner Elementary School.
6. Sending cards, gifts and fruit baskets to Auburn teachers, cafeteria, office and custodian staffs.
7. The purchase of an annual for the family of Hayden Simpkins.
8. Selling booster club tickets for a VCR.

The goals of the Hi-Y have been reached to make the club a success for the year of 85-86.

Hi-Y Officers: Jim Rutherford, Chaplin; Lucy Turner, Secretary/Treasurer; Cheron Farnwalt, President; Timmy Miles, Vice President.

The Inter Club Council was formed by the administration to help improve the communication between clubs and the administration. The ICC was also formed to help clubs with specific problems.

The ICC is made up of Vice Presidents of all the clubs in both high and middle school. Next year, the club will elect a chairperson from the members.

Some accomplishments of the club are: coordinating the club flag project, the grape vine club bulletin board, and reduction of number of offices a member may hold.

Altizer, Jay McIlwain, Dale Wade, Jimmy Roop.

A new organization formed this year was the Monogram Club. It is for those students who have lettered in a Varsity sport. These sports include: Football, Basketball, Volleyball, Baseball, Tennis, Track, Cross Country, and Cheerleading. The organization sponsored by Mr. Dennis Hunter held a student vs faculty basketball game in which the members of the club played the faculty. The club raised money to buy the Seniors in the club plaques. They also recognized the seniors who had lettered and kept a certain Grade Point Average at Graduation. The club also held "hire an athlete day". The members did work for people in the Community and gave the money they earned to the club. With these activities the new club got started on the right foot.

PUTTING IT ALL TOGETHER

Not many people understand how many nours, study halls, and afternoons go into making an annual and making it something special. Although this year's staff faced many problems, we finally made it. We would like to thank the faculty for their support and most of all our sponsor Ms. Sumner and editor Tommy Weeks, for without their patience and help we would have never made it.
